NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF HEARING OFFICIALS

2010 ANNUAL PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT CONFERENCE

September 26 - 29, 2010
Doubletree Hotel

NASHVILLE, TN

Fine Tune Your Hearing Skills

Co-sponsored by the Tennessee Department of Human Services

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

✓ Hearing Officers
✓ Administrative Law Judges
✓ Attorneys
✓ Paralegals
✓ Mediators/Arbitrators
✓ Hearings Representatives/Advocates
✓ Hearing Program Managers
It is my pleasure to extend this invitation to you to attend NAHO's 2010 Annual Professional Development Conference which will be held September 26-29 in Nashville, Tennessee. The conference site is the Doubletree Hotel, which is centrally located in downtown Nashville. Nashville, or "Music City USA" as it is called, is home to the Country Music Hall of Fame and Ryman Auditorium (former home of the Grand Ole Opry). Both are within walking distance of the hotel, as are other places of interest such as the State Capitol, Vanderbilt University, Frist Art Center, Sommet Center, Historic RCA Studio B (the birthplace of hits by Elvis Presley, Dolly Parton, Charley Pride, and others), and Historic 2nd Avenue. The attractions are many and diverse - there is something for everyone. I was excited to learn that there will be a Dale Chihuly art glass exhibit at the Frist Art Center.

Dale Chihuly's works are found world-wide and he is regarded as the most innovative glass artist working today. There are also a variety of restaurants and honky-tonks within easy walking distance.

Plantations and museums abound in the surrounding area. Notable among them, is the Belle Meade Plantation, once a world-renowned thoroughbred horse farm where the bloodlines of Seabiscuit and Secretariat started. Also nearby is The Hermitage, home of President Andrew Jackson. The attractions are too numerous to cover in-depth here and I encourage you to visit the Nashville CVB website at www.visitmusiccity.com for a complete listing of attractions and information to help you make the most of your time in this beautiful city and surrounding area.

The name "Tennessee" originated from an old Yuchi Indian word meaning "the meeting place." I thought, how apropos! The conference is designed to be not only an education and training experience, but also an opportunity to meet with hearing officials from all over the country who conduct a wide variety of hearings.

The conference program is a blend of educational courses about general administrative law topics and specialized nuts and bolts training. So whether you are new to the profession or you are a more experienced hearing official, there will be plenty of sessions to interest you and provide you with new tools to do your job more efficiently or to refresh what you already know.

The conference opens on Sunday with a very distinguished speaker, Julian Mann, III, Chief Administrative Law Judge and director of the North Carolina Office of Administrative Hearings, who will deliver the opening keynote address giving his perspective on due process of law and what can happen when judicial independence is compromised in administrative decision-making. On Monday, we have two more very distinguished speakers, the Honorable Cornelia Clark, Chief Justice of the Tennessee Supreme Court, and Bob Cooper, Attorney General for the State of Tennessee, Check out the faculty, which includes a whole host of new presenters as well as some returning speakers, and the array of topics, and I believe you will be impressed and excited with this year's program.

We have some exciting events planned for this year. On Sunday evening we will cruise on the Cumberland River aboard the General Jackson Showboat, where you can relax and enjoy dining, entertainment, and conversation with your fellow hearing officials. There will be a luncheon on Monday with Attorney General Bob Cooper as our speaker. And on Tuesday evening, there will be a banquet. The planners are working on some appropriate Nashville entertainment for the event.

September in Nashville is a beautiful, pleasant time of year. The temperature typically averages 81 degrees for a high and 61 degrees for a low.

NAHO has a well-earned excellent reputation for its annual conference. Please join me and your colleagues in September in "Music City USA" to "Fine Tune Your Hearing Skills." I look forward to personally welcoming you to another great experience!

BONNY M. FETCH, President
National Association of Hearing Officials

CLE NOTE: CLE credits have been applied for with the Tennessee Commission on Continuing Legal Education. Attorneys from other states are responsible to apply to their own state bars for CLE credits.

According to the United States Mint, the three stars and instruments on the Tennessee quarter represent the state's three distinct regions: the fiddle represents the Appalachian music of east Tennessee, the trumpet stands for the blues of west Tennessee for which Memphis is famous, and the guitar is for central Tennessee, home to Nashville, the capital of country music.
DEALING WITH HIGH VOLUME HEARINGS (E)
Candice L. Reed, National Director of Candidate Recruitment and Placement, Counsel on Call, Nashville, TN
With the onset of electronic data and discovery in recent years, the volume of documents in any one case can be daunting. When combined with a large number of cases, it can be overwhelming. Today more than ever, it is vital to have comprehensive protocols in place to manage voluminous litigation. Where do you begin? What are your end goals and how do you plan to reach them? Will you be able to reach these goals with the staff you currently have in place or will the volume require you to supplement your existing workforce with contract personnel? What about technology? Faculty will discuss these questions and offer ways to manage and staff high-volume hearings, focusing on efficiency and cost-savings, while building a repeatable process that can be used again in future matters.

DISABILITY DETERMINATION - THE SEQUENTIAL PROCESS (S)
Laura Clark, TN Department of Human Services, Nashville, TN
A person is entitled to receive Social Security disability (SSD) benefits when they are no longer able to perform a substantial gainful activity as the result of a physical or mental impairment that is expected to last at least 12 months, or possibly result in death. While this is not as easy as "1, 2, and 3," understanding the definition of disability used by Social Security is essential for a hearing official. This how-to course will fully discuss the sequential process, including how a person's disability or impairment must meet or equal the level of severity described in the Social Security listing book.

EVIDENCE 101 - THE GOOD, THE BAD, AND THE OBJECTIONABLE (M)
Steve R. Dozier, Judge, Criminal Court Division I, Nashville, TN
At every administrative hearing, evidence by both parties is essential to the hearing to ensure due process. This course is designed to familiarize hearing officials with both the basic concepts of law, admission of evidence, different types of testimonies, and burdens of proof, as well as the more complicated issues recurring around expert testimony and the future of evidence law.

EXAMINING JUDICIAL DEMEANOR AND TEMPERAMENT - YOUR OWN! (E)
Laurence H. Geller and Peter Hennenway, Retired Administrative Law Judges, California Dept of Social Services
This class explores how we communicate, what we communicate to others, and how that affects the hearing process. Are we in control of the hearing and in control of our emotions, our conduct, and our persona?

FAIR HEARINGS AND VALID FACTUAL DISPUTES: PROVIDING DUE PROCESS WITHOUT A HEARING (S)
Carol Fletcher, Division of Appeals and Hearings, TN Dept of Human Services
This presentation will introduce the concept of "valid factual disputes" as used in the context of Medicaid fair hearings in Tennessee. Approved by the United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit in the 2005 decision in Rosen v. Goetz, a valid fact dispute is a required allegation for an appellant to receive a fair hearing. In Medicaid eligibility appeals, does this comply with due process? How does an agency explain this requirement to appellants? This presentation will discuss the issues behind the "valid fact dispute" and the process by which appeals are reviewed for meeting this standard.

FULL DISCLOSURE . . . WHERE IMMUNITY ENDS AND LIABILITY BEGINS (E)
Robert E. Cooper, Jr., Tennessee Attorney General, Nashville, TN
Conflict of interest? Perception of power? Ethical dilemmas? Among other immunities, hearing officials do have "qualified immunity" from individual liability when making discretionary decisions unless their conduct violates clearly established statutory or constitutional rights of which a reasonable person would have known. This course will discuss how conduct that is outside the scope of employment as a hearing official, or willful and wanton, may result in a loss of governmental immunity and/or in personal liability, including punitive damages.

HEARINGS VIA ELECTRONIC MEDIA: LEVERAGING VOICE, VIDEO, AND INTEGRATED SYSTEMS TO IMPROVE THE HEARING PROCESS (E)
Tim Bates, Avtex
As technology rapidly progresses, the "consumerization of IT" is changing how government organizations deal with their constituents in all aspects of public service. Join us as we look at some of the emerging technologies that are impacting the hearing process and how some forward-thinking organizations are leveraging these tools to better serve the public.

HELPFUL INTERNET RESEARCH TOOLS (IV)
Pamela Boyd, Director of CD Attorney Unit and Counsel for Commissioner's Designee for Appeals and Hearings, TN Dept of Human Services, and Susan Reele, Attorney, Westlaw Government Account Manager, Louisville, KY
The presentation will include an open discussion of how hearing officials from various states conduct legal research and what is considered to be the appropriate role of the hearing official in researching the law (including case law), rules, and regulations after a hearing has been held in order to reach an administrative decision. Useful free legal resources found on the Internet will be explored. Susan Reele will also show you how WestlawNext gives you an easier way to search, yet delivers all of what you're looking for. Now you won't have to choose where the answer is before you start your search. And you can apply intelligent tools to help you work smarter and faster with total confidence you have the information you need. All of which makes life easier.
2010 Conference Course Descriptions

Key code: (M) Mandatory  (E) Elective  (S) Substantive

HERETOFORE NO MORE: CLEAR AND CONCISE LEGAL WRITING (M)
Susan McDonald, Attorney, Nashville, TN
This interactive program will provide hearing officials with tools to make their writing more effective. The topics include the writing process, plain English, grammar and punctuation, writing style, as well as proofreading and editing. Expect lively discussions and helpful grammar writing tips.

HOW DOES A DETACHED JUDGE PROTECT A CITIZEN'S RIGHT TO DUE PROCESS OF LAW IN AN ADMINISTRATIVE HEARING? (M)
Julien Mann III, Chief ALJ and Director, North Carolina Office of Administrative Hearings, Raleigh, NC
In this opening keynote address, Judge Mann will give an insightful perspective on due process of law and address the lessons learned as to what can happen when judicial independence is compromised in administrative decision-making. Judge Mann's article, Due Process; A Detached Judge; and Enemy Combatants, published in the Journal of the National Association of Administrative Law Judiciary (Vol. 28, No. 1, Spring 2008), gives a historical perspective of due process as it has been applied in the judicial court process and as it has similarly come to be required in the administrative hearing process. Using that framework, Judge Mann examines due process of law issues in the cases which arose as the result of administrative hearing procedures granted to enemy combatants detained at Guantanamo Bay. He will explore the challenges that all administrative hearing officials face when there is a loss of or an appearance of a loss of neutrality in an administrative hearing.

INCREASING PROFESSIONAL SUCCESS AND MANAGING WORKPLACE STRESS (E)
Condict L. Reed, National Director of Candidate Recruitment and Placement, Counsel on Coll, Nashville, TN
During this session, attendees will learn about positive psychology, the scientific study of the strengths and virtues that enable individuals and communities to thrive, and how it can be used to increase professional success and work satisfaction. For the first half of the session, faculty will provide an introduction to the field of positive psychology and its focus on the legal profession. Attendees will learn why well-being matters and scientists' hypotheses for why lawyers and other legal professionals appear to be so unhappy with their jobs — and what studies suggest can be done to improve their work satisfaction (thereby benefiting their clients and contributing to increased professional success). During the second half of the session, faculty will address the question, “Can simply incorporating your personal strengths at work increase your engagement and satisfaction with your job (and life)?” Research in the field of positive psychology suggests “yes.” Studies indicate that individuals who use their strengths in their jobs are six times more likely to be engaged with their work and are more than three times as likely to report having an excellent (or better) quality of life. This session will show attendees ways to connect (or reconnect) with their core strengths and utilize them more in their daily work in an effort to gain greater satisfaction and professionalism. In addition to lecture, attendees will be guided through various on-site activities designed to develop and nurture specific skills to increase their success and work satisfaction, while decreasing burn-out and apathy.

IS THIS A CIRCUS OR AN ADMINISTRATIVE HEARING? HOW TO ENSURE CONTROL AND CONDUCT AN IMPARTIAL ADMINISTRATIVE HEARING WHEN THE MEDIA IS PRESENT (M)
Michelle Rector-Johnson, Communications Director, TN Department of Human Services
Lights...Camera...Action! This interactive course will focus on how to prepare for and conduct an administrative hearing in light of media presence and interest. Participants will have the opportunity to participate in a mock hearing designed to hone their skills in responding to media inquiries and controlling the hearing process.

JUDICIAL REVIEW OF ADMINISTRATIVE DECISIONS: TEN FINE TUNES TO IMPROVE YOUR RECORD (E)
Cornelle A. Clark, Chief Justice, Tennessee Supreme Court, Nashville, TN
Using a humorous Music City framework, Chief Justice Clark's keynote speech will provide tips on how to improve the administrative record and maximize the chances of affirmation on appeal.

LEVERAGING UNIFIED SOCIAL COLLABORATION TO TRANSFORM GOVERNMENT COMMUNICATIONS (E)
Kerry Cunningham, Microsoft Corporation, Mt. Juliet, TN
This session will discuss business models and case studies for leveraging unified social collaboration to transform government communications. Microsoft Unified Communications solutions can help governments deliver excellent services, reduce their carbon footprint, and achieve the efficiencies required to drive down costs. Microsoft Unified Communications give government workers the flexibility to reach their colleagues, connect campuses and access the information they need, whether they are in the office, in the field, or working from home. Using integrated communications and simplified conferencing capabilities, workers can quickly and easily connect with the right person via the software applications and business processes they use every day.

NAHO Membership

If you are interested in joining NAHO for the first time or have been a member for awhile, now is the time to sign up. All application forms and dues should be mailed to NAHO Membership, c/o ND Office of Administrative Hearings, 1707 North 9th Street, Bismarck, ND 58501. NAHO bylaws require all new regular members to be approved by the membership committee and new associate members to be approved by the Board of Directors at the next regularly scheduled board meeting; therefore, please allow time for processing and consideration in order to qualify for the NAHO member registration rate.

NAHO's membership period runs from January to December. Dues are $45 per year or $105 for three years for new members or members whose membership lapses more than twelve (12) months ago. If ten or more join from the same organization and pay at the same time, the fee is $40 per year per person. Questions may be directed to Eric Moody, Membership Committee chair, at eric.moody@idaho.gov. The membership application is located at www.naho.org/documents/membership.pdf.

Certification

The National Association of Hearing Officials is a professional nonprofit organization formed in 1986 and is the only national professional organization for administrative hearing officials which offers a certification program for hearing officers and administrative law judges.

The NAHO certification program is dedicated to developing uniform standards of excellence and professionalism for hearing officials and administrative law judges across the country. Courses attended at this year's conference may be counted towards receiving certification requirements for 2010. Core requirements can be met at annual NAHO conferences or other recognized programs addressing the hearing process. For complete information, on certification, visit www.naho.org or contact one of the Certification Committee co-chairs, Ramona Collinsworth at ramona.collinsworth@hhsc.state.tx.us or Linda Snow at linda.snow@hhsc.state.tx.us.

Applications for certification or recertification must be postmarked no later than July 31, 2010, if you wish to receive the certification at the conference in September.
2010 Conference Course Descriptions

Please note that we will make every attempt to adhere to the list of short course descriptions below. Should any last minute changes become necessary, your consideration will be appreciated. Designations after the workshop title refer to classification of courses accepted by NAHO for certification of hearing officials and administrative law judges. For complete information on required and elective course credits for certification, see the certification application on the NAHO website, www.naho.org. A complete listing of speakers and biographies is also available on the website.

SPEAKER HIGHLIGHTS

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

JULIAN MANN III, Chief ALJ and director of the North Carolina Office of Administrative Hearings, will be our general session keynote speaker on Sunday, September 26, 2010. The topic of Judge Mann's address is "How Does a Deterred Judge Protect a Citizen’s Right to Due Process of Law In An Administrative Hearing?" Judge Mann will provide an insightful perspective on due process of law and address the lessons learned when judicial independence is compromised in administrative decision-making.

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

CORNELIA CLARK, Chief Justice of the Tennessee Supreme Court, will be our keynote speaker on Monday, September 27, 2010. The topic of Chief Justice Clark's address will be "Judicial Review of Administrative Decisions: Ten Fine Tunes to Improve Your Record." Using a humorous Music City framework, Chief Justice Clark’s keynote speech will provide tips on how to improve the administrative record and maximize the chances of affirmance on appeal.

LUNCHEON SPEAKER

ROBERT E. COOPER, JR., Attorney General for the state of Tennessee, will be our luncheon speaker on Monday, September 27, 2010. The topic of Mr. Cooper's address will be "Full Disclosure... Where Immunity Ends and Liability Begins," and will discuss how conduct that is outside the scope of employment as a hearing official, or willful and wanton, may result in a loss of governmental immunity and/or in personal liability, including punitive damages.

COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

Key code: (M) Mandatory  (E) Elective  (S) Substantive

A CULTURE OF RESPECT (M)
Debra Mosier, Outreach and Education Manager, Equal Employment Opportunity Commission
This workshop will address primary and secondary dimensions of diversity and how those impact the workplace. It will also address how our actions, guided by stereotypes and generalization, can lead to workplace behavior that is unlawful. An overview of the law and the steps we can take to prevent unlawful harassment and discrimination is also covered.

CONFLICT MANAGEMENT TECHNIQUES FOR HEARING OFFICERS (E)
Larry Bridgesmith, Executive Director, Institute for Conflict Resolution, Lipscomb University
Hearing officers are specialists in dispute resolution serving as adjudicators and decision makers. The skills of conflict management are tools which hearing officers also can bring to their role. This session will explore how additional skills for managing conflict, exploring interests, consensus building and collaboration can enhance the hearing officer’s function in adversarial settings.

DEALING EFFECTIVELY WITH THE PRO SE PETITANT (E)
Douglas A. blonde, Dean, University of Tennessee College of Law
The program discussion will cover the unique challenges of effectively handling a pro se appellant (or appellee) in a hearing setting, focusing on the perspective of that pro se party. The issues will include reduction of anxiety, dealing with confusion and a lack of understanding, understanding the role of the hearing officer, and balancing the rights of the parties without sacrificing the process or giving up too much control.

www.naho.org
MENTORING HEARING OFFICIALS (E)
Dave Shearon, Executive Director, Tennessee Commission on Continuing Legal Education and Specialization

Turnover, training expenses, and thriving dockets— all these factors point to the difficulties involved in hiring and retaining quality hearing officials. This narrated presentation and interactive discussion will focus upon the new efforts to utilize existing hearing officials to mentor those new to the administrative process. Whether a manager of hearing officials or a hearing official, each of us can play a part in bringing knowledge and skills to use in mentoring those new to your organization.

THE BEGINNING OF THE END: THE PREHEARING PROCESS (E)
James Gerl, Special Ed Law Consultant, Scott & Gerl, Lewisburg, WV

In this session, participants will explore techniques for managing cases before the hearing begins. Good prehearing management can keep a case from getting off track before you even get to the hearing.

WHAT IS DUE PROCESS? DO BIASES INTRUDE INTO THE HEARING PROCESS? (M)
Lawrence H. Geller and Peter Hennessey, Retired Administrative Law Judges, California Dept of Social Services

Have you ever really thought about your own biases? If not, maybe it's time you do. Let's figure out how "impartial" we are as IHOs, and what kind of "justice" we render, both from our own perspective and from the perspective of the parties who appear before us.

WORKERS COMPENSATION CIRCUS WORLD (S)
Henry Kudr Corley, Instructor, Nashville School of Law, Nashville, TN

An overview of the law of workers' compensation featuring legislative juggling and balancing acts, legal acrobatics and tightrope walking, medical elephants and ferocious jungle cats, employee roller coasters and other scary rides, employer pinball and other games of chance, workers' compensation insurer vendors and barker's, and even special interest clowns.

YOU BETCHA VS. THANKS, BUT NO THANKS: RULING ON OBJECTIONS (E)
James Gerl, Special Ed Law Consultant, Scott & Gerl, Lewisburg, WV

This session will include a review of the evidentiary rules for administrative hearings and a series of hypothetical objections for the participants to practice ruling on objections.
