2021-11	Judicial Demeanor	Mandatory	Ethics	Headlines and bar association journals across the nation have recently reported the names of administrative judges, as well as judges in the traditional court system, who have been disciplined or were forced to leave their positions for displaying demeanor that was inappropriate. Exactly what demeanor is appropriate? What does "judicial demeanor" entail? Further, how does an adjudicator maintain the proper judicial demeanor when faced with warring parties and contentious counsel? Courtroom (or hearing room) civility seems to be a thing of the past, yet every code and canon of ethics and professional conduct require us to deport ourselves in the proper manner despite what others may do. Join us for a practical look at the importance of maintaining a cordial, yet dignified temperament, realistic instruction on how to do so, and a review of the ethics canons which require us to provide "judicial demeanor."	90	Richard Murrell, Chief ALJ
